PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Present: Researcher at the University of São Paulo - appointment with the Institute for Brazilian Studies and the Department of Anthropology, and Associate Researcher at José Luiz Setúbal Foundation

Main activities: teaching the course Plantation and Counter-Plantations; teaching the course Anthropology of Science and the Environment; writing, editing, and submitting papers on planetary health; writing a book based on my doctoral research under contract with the University of California Press; and cross-departmental teaching activities.

Affiliate Researcher, Fluid Futures Initiative (Princeton University), Anthropologie de la Vie (Collège de France-Laboratoire d'Anthropologie Sociale), Maison du CNRS-USP (Transitions environnementales à l'ère de l'Anthropocène Project) and National Institute of Science and Technology IARA-Health (Brazil)

2024: Postdoctoral researcher at the Collège de France (Paris, France), with Perig Pitrou.

2023 - 2024: Postdoc at Princeton University - appointment with the High Meadows Environmental Institute and the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies

Main activities: teaching the course Indigenous Worldings, consolidation of my doctoral research with the writing and submission of two research articles to peer-reviewed journals; elaborating on and submitting my book proposal to different academic presses; researching within the project engaging Indigenous Ecologies of Knowledge in collaboration with ecologists and Indigenous experts; and beginning of a new research on the Bananal Island's river damming.

2017 - 2022: Environmental journalism

Journalistic coverage of environmental issues, human rights violations, and climate change mainly in the Amazon rainforest. Words at The Guardian, National Geographic, Wired, Reuters, among others.

GRANTS and AWARDS

Academic Grants

2026. Carlsberg Foundation (with Peter Krogh Andersen) - $77,000.00
2024. Ibirapitanga Institute - $8,000.00
2024. Bourse Terrée - Collège de France | Laboratoire d'Anthropologie Sociale (Paris) - $6,000.00
2023-2024. Princeton University Center for Health & Wellbeing Grant - $10,000.00
2018-2022. Doctoral Fellowship from São Paulo Research Foundation (FAPESP) - $40,000.00

Journalism Grants

Between 2019 and 2023, I received four grants from the Pulitzer Center's Rainforest Journalism Fund, along with a grant from Agência Pública and the Josué de Castro Chair, to support fieldwork across the Brazilian Amazon. These funds enabled reporting on food insecurity, environmental degradation, climate change, the disappearance of fish, COVID-19 disinformation among Indigenous communities, and the impacts of soy expansion and agrochemicals. The resulting features, documentaries, and podcast were published in The Guardian, Mongabay, Agência Pública, and Le Monde Diplomatique Brasil.

Academic Award

2023. University of São Paulo Award for PhD dissertation in the humanities

Journalism Award

2024. Covering Climate Now Journalism Awards Winner, with Elisângela Mendonça and Andrew Wasley.

2023. Short-listed Foreign Press Association Media Award

Finalist for the Covering Climate Now Journalism Awards

TAUGHT COURSES

These are all courses that I independently designed and taught, with a clear focus on Latin America. I received formal evaluations only for the course I taught at Princeton, where my work was widely recognized, particularly for its participatory methodology and for addressing critical intersections between environmental issues, social inequalities, climate change, plantation systems, and toxicity, among other themes.

2025. Anthropology of Science: Environmental Conflicts and Climate Change. University of São Paulo

2024. Understanding the new authoritarian movements. SESC-SP Research Center

Plantation and Counter-Plantation. University of São Paulo
Socio-environmental Narratives Workshop. Pulitzer Center/Federal University of Acre

2023. Indigenous Worldings. Princeton University
Political anthropology in the Amazon. SESC-SP Research Center

2022. Socio-environmental Narratives Workshop. Pulitzer Center/Federal University of Pará

2020. Nonfiction Writing Workshop. Publication Studio SP.
